RE: VIOLATION LETTER – PIT BULLS AND BEING RESPONSIBLE OWNERS

COMMUNITY GUIDELINES ISSUE REPORTED

It has been reported to us that your tenant possess a Pit Bull breed/mix while residing in the Brookside Park Condo Community. Per the Community Rules and Regulations, that is not permitted to occur. It is also evident that they also allow their dog to defecate without picking up the refuse. This violates our Condominium Declaration Article X, Section 2 A, E (See attached).

In addition, possessing, breeding, selling or giving away Pit Bulls in PG County is against the law (see below)

Pit Bulls Effective February 3, 1997, in compliance with the Prince George's County Code, Section 3-185.01, it is illegal to own or harbor a non-registered Pit Bull in Prince George's County. To legally own a Pit Bull in the County, your pet must have been registered with the Animal Management Division prior to February 3, 1997 and maintain a current Pit Bull registration. The registration tag must be worn by the Pit Bull at all times. All Pit Bulls with expired registrations are considered illegal and will be impounded, and the owner may be fined or face criminal prosecution. If your registered Pit Bull produces a litter, the puppies are considered illegal and must leave Prince George's County. Citizens and residents are prohibited by law from selling or giving away Pit Bulls in Prince George's County. The Code also requires that Pit Bulls be maintained. The Code also requires that Pit Bulls be maintained within a building or secured kennel if kept outdoors for any length of time. In addition, the Code states that Pit Bulls outside of a building or kennel must be under the control of an adult and secured by an unbreakable leash. Violations to this provision will result in fines up to $1,000 or a sentence of not more than six months imprisonment. Pit Bulls include any and all of the following breed of dogs: Staffordshire bull terrier; American Staffordshire terrier; American Pit Bull Terrier; or dogs that exhibit the characteristics of a Pit Bull more than any other breed of dog.

We kindly request that you take immediate action to rectify this situation by ensuring that your tenant cease and desist the current behavior and complies with the bylaws. If such behavior does not get cured with the next 30 days you will be assessed up to $2000 per occurrence per the Community Rules and Regulations. It is essential that we maintain a pleasant living environment for all residents of Brookside Park Condo.
